INTRODUCTORY LANGUAGE
The SA Climate Ready Climate Action and Adaptation Plan (CAAP) is San Antonio's a roadmap to reduce carbon emissions, adapt to a changing climate, and ensure San Antonio remains a healthy, vibrant place for generations to come.
The Technical and Community Advisory Committee will advise City staff and City Council on the implementation of the CAAP, and other associated long-term sustainability plans, such as the SA Tomorrow Sustainability Plan, while serving as a forum for the community to offer input on climate action and sustainability.
As the CAAP is centered in equity and diversity, membership in advisory committees shall represent those that live and work within the City of San Antonio, inclusive of indigenous persons, communities of color, low-income residents, LGTBQIA+ persons, persons of varying ages, persons with different abilities, and other marginalized communities who hold diverse expertise, identities, and/or perspectives.
The City of San Antonio, through the Office of Equity, has made a commitment to advancing diversity, equity and inclusion in local government in all of its Departments. Equity means that our policy-making, service delivery, and distribution of resources account for the different histories, challenges, and needs of the people we serve. The Office of Equity is a citywide office focused on advancing social equity within City Government, to help reduce and ultimately eliminate disparities experienced by our most marginalized San Antonio residents, and the Office of Sustainability will continue to collaborate with them on the CAAP.

	I have studied and actively participated in issues addressing numerous social equity concerns

Please provide a brief summary of your expertise and/or perspectives.	since I was in college. Whether literacy programs, land use, environment, reproductive health, Food Systems and more, my professional career has revolved around issues of sustainability. I know, first hand, the challenges faced by under-served communities, having lived in a residential rehabilitation zone in North Carolina. I worked on the 2000 Census and saw the obstacles faced by the poorest among us, living with limited access to electricity, clean water, and healthy food in our own country I will cover my expertise in the next section. As for my perspective, I care about social issues and have been a trusted advisor as established by editing a books on social entrepreneurship. This demonstrates my expertise in Business and Industry, especially social enterprises. Climate change is the next major challenge that will affect us all in obvious and unexpected ways. I am new to San Antonio, so I believe I bring a fresh, unbiased perspective.
Please provide a description of your professional, educational and community/volunteer experience.	I am the Sustainability Manager for C. H. Guenther. I have expertise in Food Systems, Business and Industry, Waste and Consumption and Environmental Advocacy. Prior to CHG, I was the executive director of a social enterprise focused on finance as a sustainability motivator. I have worked for a suburban land trust, served on a county Commission for the Environment and served on the board of the North Florida Green Chamber (absorbed into the Green Chamber of the South) and the International Society of Sustainability Professionals, from which I hold the ISSP-SA credential.
Please share your interest and commitment to racial and economic justice and other social equity issues.	Climate change will pose adverse and unexpected challenges to our food systems. Food security is already a crisis for too many. We need to address these climate change issues before they become crises for everyone. Working for CHG, I am exposed to the many ideas put out by the food industry with an eye to sustainability. No one should go hungry. All too often, the need is more for better logistics than greater quantity. Access for everyone should be universal. I believe this personally and am proud to work for a company with similar values. As noted above, I have been involved in one way or another with social equity issues my entire life. I am originally from Puerto Rico, and we face these crises all too often. I have learned to care deeply and passionately about social justice in the face of a turbulent environment.

Please explain why you would like to serve on this committee.	When I join a community, I am all in. As a new San Antonio resident, I welcome this opportunity to use my skills to protect and enrich my new home. While I have much to learn about the area, I also have a fresh perspective, unbiased by past political exchanges or even my own self-interest. I will look at everything from an outside perspective. I want to contribute my skills and expertise.
What potential barrier(s) may affect your participation in this committee?
